LAYING THE FRAMEWORK

Starting on Tuesday April 13, 2010 at the Southern University School of Architecture, on the 2nd floor from 7:00 pm - 9 pm, the Scotlandville charrette will begin with a kick-off meeting. This Scotlandville Charrette Workshop seeks to identify the core values, beliefs, and ideals shared by the community and continue from where the vision workshops left off. This 5-day workshop will set the framework for the Scotlandville Comprehensive Community Development Plan (SCCDP). Food will be provided throughout this 5-day event and parking passes are available as well, contact Jason Lockhart with the U+R CDRC at 225-771-3574 for more information.

"It is great the U+R is working with Fregonese to incorporate our views into the EBR Plan."

A VISION FOR THE FUTURE OF SCOTLANDVILLE

Above Left: Students using wood blocks and construction paper to represent their ideas for the future of Scotlandville; Above Right: Students drawing their visions on the maps.

On Saturday March 6 and Saturday March 13, 2010, the U+R CDRC conducted two visioning sessions for students and the adults in the Scotlandville community. The youth vision session on March 6 was a continuation from the competition held in October and November of 2009 that gave elementary, middle, and high school students the chance to develop their vision for the future of Scotlandville. At the vision session on March 6, high school and Southern University students were given the chance to have their voices heard. On March 13, the adults were given the chance to express their ideas for the future of Scotlandville and how the plan should be developed. One resident said, "I truly feel this process is including the people like never before and I am glad to be a part of this plan." The results from the visioning sessions will be displayed at the Scotlandville community charrette on April 13-17, 2010 on the second floor of the School of Architecture. This information will be the basis for the charrette and set the framework for the Scotlandville Comprehensive Community Development Plan (SCCDP). For more information on the visioning sessions or to become a part of the process and have your voice heard, contact Jason Lockhart with the U+R CDRC at 771-3574.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SURVEYS

Surveys are conducted to find out the characteristics, behaviors, opinions, and knowledge of a particular population. Architects and planners use surveys to help them make good and credible decisions based on reliable information. The survey is a widely accepted tool for gathering information from citizens in towns, neighborhoods and cities. With the increase in citizen participation, surveys are a way to both reach a broad public and to gather valuable information from people that are typically not consulted in the planning process.
